The Memory Foam® should never be wet, and never wash the Memory Foam®. Because the mattress should never be wet, we cannot promise that the following steps will completely remove the stain/s or odor/s. If you accidentally spill liquid on your mattress, please take the following steps immediately.

- Soak up as much of the liquid as possible using absorbent cloths.
- Once excess moisture is removed, let the mattress air dry. To speed up the drying process, place a fan so that it blows directly on the mattress.

Mattress Protectors

If you are use a mattress protector, we recommend that you use a product that is designed to protect your mattress without impacting the feel or performance.

Electric blankets or heating pads

We do not recommend using an electric blanket or heating pad with your mattress. Due to the temperature-sensitivity of the Memory Foam®, adding high heat can hinder its ability to react to your body temperature and conform to your body shape. If you ever do use an electric blanket or heating pad, we recommend limiting its use to 30 minutes, and only on low or medium heat.

Transporting or storing

When transporting or storing your mattress, we recommend that you lay the mattress flat and not on its side or folded.
